

MARRIAGE MENTORING INITIATIVE

Do you want more from your marriage?

Do you lack marriage role models?

Do you feel like you have begun to drift apart as a couple?

The Marriage Mentoring Initiative can help.

Our trained mentors have a heart for others, a willingness to listen and a desire to share their on-going marriage story with other couples.

The Marriage Mentoring Initiative includes:

- A one year commitment between you and your partner with a trained mentor couple.
- Monthly meetings of approximately 90 minutes with your mentor couple.
- A FamilyLife Canada Mentoring Conversation Guide that focuses on 14 crucial topics including gratitude, showing love, conflict resolution and communication.
- Couples are expected to have conversations with each other around each topic before meeting with your mentor couple. There are also optional projects to do on your own between sessions.
- Monthly meetings will be led by the mentor couple, encouraging conversation by asking a series of questions and sharing personal stories.

If you would like to enter into a mentoring relationship, contact:

Steven and Debra Twiss

613-968-7227

debra.twiss@gmail.com

We are also looking for more couples to train as mentors - if you are interested, contact them as well.